Headteacher Thanks

Thank you to parents and staff for your efforts to get into school and for being so supportive this week. It is always difficult to know whether to remain open, safety being the priority at all times. We are also mindful of parents' working commitments and appreciate that school being closed makes things very difficult, especially for those working at other schools, the health service and emergency services. We aim to make a decision as early as possible but with the ever changing forecasts and travel circumstances this is not always straightforward. If school is closed you will be informed by a text message. A message will also be put on the schools Facebook and Twitter pages. All absences will be authorised this week for Wednesday and Thursday.

World Book Day

Despite the bad weather there were some fantastic costumes as ever...thanks to all.

Please take a look at our photographs of 'Extreme Reading'.... They are displayed at the bottom of the stairs

School Council

- On-going Eco-school renewal.
- The reapplication assessment date is this Thursday 8th March.

Science Week - W/B 12.03.18

Next week is National Science Week... We plan to undertake a variety of investigations each afternoon in every class. Mr Lenagh (Science Coordinator) and Mrs Timbers will begin the week with a special assembly.

On Friday 16th in assembly Ted and Tilly's (Yellow Base) Grandpa who is a retired science teacher will conclude with exciting experiments. If anyone would like to offer their specialist knowledge, please see Mrs Timbers.

Thank you for your continued support.

Can you Help?

Spare Clothes.

We are running short of boys trousers/leggings/girls tights and socks. If anyone has any spares would you pop them into Mrs Timbers please.

Uniform PE Kit

If your child has grown out of their uniform/PE kit please bring it into school as we like to keep a selection in school. Any donations gratefully received.

Active Challenge

Your child will be bringing home a footprint to decorate for the Design a Footprint Badge Competition. Please return to the office by Monday 26th March.
